Vancouver July 06, 2010. The Board of Directors of New Guinea Gold Corporation (NGG or the Company), subsequent to the Annual General Meeting held on June 29, 2010, appointed Colin McKenzie as a director of the Corporation.

Colin is a respected exploration professional with over 30 years experience in major exploration projects and business development in Canada and internationally. He is President and CEO of Cornerstone Resources Inc. (CGP-V) and previously served as Vice President, Exploration for Skye Resources, which was engaged in development of nickel laterite deposits in Guatemala. Before joining Skye, he was Director, Exploration for Inco Ltd., where he was in charge of exploration in Latin America as well as responsible for generating new business opportunities from Inco's portfolio of non-core exploration properties. From 1996 to 2000 he was Vice President, Exploration for Voisey's Bay Nickel, responsible for managing exploration and resource evaluation of the Voisey's Bay deposits. Prior to that he held increasingly senior exploration positions with Rio Algom and BP Mining, where he was credited with the discovery of the Hope Brook gold deposit. Colin holds B.Sc. (Honours) and M.Sc. degrees in Geology from Dalhousie University.

Bob McNeil, CEO and Chairman commented, "We welcome Colin to the Board. Colin will add substantial strength to our exploration and development team and is the latest of several changes to the Board this year. The changes to date, plus possible future changes, should place NGG in a strong position to advance as exploration and development continues on NGG projects and increases momentum on our joint venture and associate company projects".
